

Challenges: Confusion

- Users generally pay attention to RBAC just as long as it takes to get something to work
- Role bindings get created and not committed anywhere
- There's no easy way to see which roles are bound to a specific user

Challenges: Automation

- Even if you commit role bindings to a repo, there's no great way to automate updates
- Updating roles requires a delete + create
- Detecting role binding removal is very important but also quite difficult
